THE SNOW BLOWS COLD

Each year when reading of the winter accident rate we automatically conclude the figures refer specifically to vehicle accidents resulting from slippery streets. Granted these are in the majority, but buried in those columns of statistics are accidents of a more bizarre category. Those in which the snow blower is involved.

One news item related such an event in a northern location last year. A child had dug a hole in a snow drift on the roadside and was playing in it when the blower came down the street. — Another portrayed the case of a child running in the blowing dense white powder as it drifted down, — became disoriented and ran into the path of the plow.

The graphic conclusion in both these instances is sickening but, nevertheless, they are facts.

Now with the return of winter, the road maintenance crews will be out in force around the area any day. From observations during previous winters, it is only a miracle that accidents similar to those illustrated above have not been reported here. On numerous occasions the plow operator has had to stop and order children away from the machine. Not only individuals but groups attracted by the artificial blizzards the blower produced.

The hazards of this type of winter sport are not apparent to most children and it therefore falls to all parents to make them aware of the danger. Please make a special point of bringing your child's attention to the risks involved and the fatal consequences.

Christmas Issue

A special Christmas issue of the Griesbach Bugle will be published this month and circulated on the 20th of December. This issue will deal specifically with the Yule Season and any material for inclusion by individuals and organizations should be forwarded to reach the Editor not later than 10th December.

In Tribute

It is only right that we too should now add our voice in eulogy to those already sounded at the tragic death of President John Fitzgerald Kennedy. An event that found us emotionally united in our shock and sympathy made his loss a very personal one to us all.

Each of us on the afternoon of November twenty-second wept inwardly or openly. Not only did we grieve at the futility of losing a closely regarded figure of state, but also at being denied what promised an increasing personal attachment gained through deepest respect of his personal dedication; a dedication that had, in one way or another, reached into our every community. Now, by another day of infamy that has darkened one more of history's pages, we have again suffered a needless denial.

Unbounded go our sympathies in condolence.

Letters to Editor

Dear Sir,

On behalf of my wife and myself we would like to express our sincere appreciation to all the kind people who gave and made possible the donation of blood for our son's recent open heart surgery. Through this generous donation the surgery was successful and Gregory's recovery has gone well so far. The surgeon found that Gregory's heart had already compensated to such an extent that in about another year it would have gone into failure.

Also we are most grateful and deeply touched by the many who remembered Gregory in their prayers. How happy we are that we will soon have our little boy with us again and have been so blessed.

Most sincerely,
Cpl. Vern Hisdal & family

Re: "Myrt Sez"

I have been reading the articles appearing in this column for some time, and I certainly hope that your readers are doing likewise and remembering the points which Mr. Chatterton is endeavouring to get across.

The latest article on Charge Accounts, Revolving Credit plans, Conditional Sales Contracts is certainly most appropriate, as most of the people who phone the Bureau or called in person invariably become involved before they call the Bureau and there is little that we can do to help, once a Contract has been signed.

We have endeavoured to point out to the Public, as Myrt Sez, it is as important to shop for your Money as it is for quality and price on goods, and when the person does not have the Cash on hand to buy — then someone else will be making it available — for a price — so know what these charges are going to be.

Keep MYRT writing to her friend — you must be getting through to some readers at least — we hope.

Sincerely,
B. G. Brown,
Manager,
Better Business Bureau of Edmonton

MAIL WE DON'T LIKE TO GET!

An angry little man bounced in to the postmaster's office. "I've been pestered by threatening letters and I want something done about it," he shouted.

"That's a federal offense," replied the postmaster. "Have you any idea who is sending you the letters?"

"I certainly have," snapped the little man. "It's them pesky income tax people."

R.O.T.P. ENROL

One hundred and thirty-four high school graduates from across Canada have been enrolled as officer cadets in the Canadian Army for training under the Regular Officer Training Plan (ROTP) at the three Services Colleges.

Of the group, 24 will attend the Royal Military College (RMC), at Kingston, Ont., 45 will go to Royal Roads (RR), Victoria, B.C., and 64 to College Militaire Royal (CMR), St. Jean, Que.

Selected because of their high scholastic standing, and suitability as potential officers of the Regular Army, the officer cadets receive pay and allowances for the rank during the academic year. Tuition and book fees are paid by the Army.

Academic studies are supplemented by military training during the summer, both at camps in Canada and overseas. On graduation they receive commissions in the Regular Army.

Those attending from Alberta are:

Richard Gerald Broom, Calgary. RMC.

Michael Robert Dondy, Calgary. RR.

Stephen Bazyil Jakubow, Haldes. RR.

William Franklin Gee, Rimbey. CMR.

Canadian Bandsmen Take Top Awards

For the second consecutive year a Canadian Army bandsman has headed the class of student bandmasters at the Royal Military School of Music at Twickenham, Middlesex, England.

Band Staff Sergeant George C. Naylor, Mus. Bac., LRAM, ARCM, GRSM, FTCL, of Sackville, N.B., and Halifax, was awarded the "Worshipful Company of Musicians Medal" for the best all-round student of the 1963 class.

Winner of the award in 1962 was Lieut. Derrick Stannard, CD, LRAM, ARCM, ARCT, Director of Music of The Royal Canadian Regiment Band at Wolseley Barracks in London, Ont.

Band S/Sgt. Naylor, formerly of the Royal Canadian Artillery Band at Halifax, began his three-year course at the British Army school in April, 1961. He was one of 11 candidates from all corners of the British Commonwealth who participated in this year's class for future bandmasters.

Naylor, 33, was a professor of music at the Mount Allison University in Sackville prior to joining the Army in 1958, and from 1948 to 1950 he was a bandsman with the Royal Signals Band in England.

NEW ANTI-TANK WEAPON

A nucleus of a cadre to instruct Regular Army soldiers in the use of a new anti-tank guided missile, the "Entac", graduated last month from the Belgian Army's infantry training school at Leopoldsborg, 43 miles east of Antwerp. The 20 officers and NCOs came from units across Canada and from Canada's NATO brigade serving in Germany.

The "Entac" (from the French name "Engin Teleguide Antichar") is the infantryman's counterpart of the Royal Canadian Armoured Corps' SS-11 anti-tank guided missile, both of which are now being taken into service after extensive trials and evaluation by Canadian Army experts.

Developed by Nord-Aviation in France, both missiles are wire-guided to their target by a manual "joy-stick" control operated by a soldier using binoculars from a point that affords both protection and good observation. The missiles can be mounted on tanks, scout cars, jeeps and helicopters or fired from the ground. They are highly accurate weapons capable of disabling any known tank.

Both the Entac and the SS-11 are intended to give the Canadian Army an increased defensive capability against tanks and do not replace existing anti-tank weapons.

Organizational trials for the new weapons were successfully conducted last summer at Camp Gagetown, N.B.

Among the students at the Belgian military school is Lt. Lynn Moffat, Kindersley, Sask., a member of the 2nd Battalion The Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada, who is official interpreter for the course. A graduate

Two other Canadians, Student Bandmaster Keith Swanwick, BB-CM, of the Royal Canadian Horse Artillery, and Jean F. Pierret, ARC, RCB, of the Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps, made fine showings in separate competitions and in one competition for the Commandant's Prize for the best quick march (The Collins Cup), the Canadians made a clean sweep, with Swanwick finishing first, Pierret second, and Naylor third.

In other competitions, the Canadians placed as follows — The Choral Prize: 1st, Pierret; 2nd, Naylor.

The Somerville Prize for military band arranging: 1st, Pierret. The Besson Cup and Medal for the student gaining highest marks in the War Office Examination: Naylor. The Professors' Prize for students making highest marks on secondary instruments: 2nd, Pierret. The Graham Wallace Award for the best overseas student bandmaster of the year: Naylor.

A wire-guided anti-tank missile, the ENTAC, is being bought by the Canadian Army for infantry use. The French-developed weapon is similar to the SS-11 missile being purchased for armoured corps troops. Here, at the Belgian Infantry Training School near Antwerp, Canadian soldiers receive instruction on a jeep-mounted ENTAC. From the left are, Lt. Patrick Thatcher, Scarborough, Ont., L/Sgt. John Martin, Burlington, Ont., Sgts. Ronald Aquino and Bruce Wedlock, both Toronto, and a Belgian instructor.

of Royal Military College, with honors in French, he is currently translating French and Belgian training directives and technical information about the two weapons into English.

At the end of the course the soldiers will return to their units to train more instructors.

Canadian Army technicians and ammunition experts have previously received instruction on the missiles at the French factory.

2 PPCLI REPORT

It may not be known to very many residents of Griesbach that 2 PPCLI has a "jumping padre" — Captain, S. H. Clarke, RCACC.

Capt. Clarke was born on 1st February 1934 in Pembroke, Ontario. He attended Pembroke Collegiate Vocational Institute from 1947 to 1952 thence to Bishop's University where he obtained a BA and from 1956 to 1958 studied theology. On 1 May, 1958, in Christ Church Cathedral, Ottawa, he was made a deacon of the Anglican Church of Canada and from 1958 to 1960 he was curate of St. John the Evangelist Church in Smith Falls, Ontario. In that town in March 1959, he was elevated to the priesthood. Captain Clarke enlisted at 13 Personnel Depot in Ottawa and was posted to the RCASC (S) from September, 1960 to October, 1961 and has been with 2 PPCLI since 1 November, 1961.

Captain Clarke is without a doubt one of the more active padres this unit has had; not only is he an active military parachutist but at the present time he is trying out for the unit hockey team. This team, by the way, is actively engaged in the City of Edmonton, league. We're sure our padre will have no difficulty making the team.

ADVENTURE - TRAINING

As reported in last month's Bugle, 2 PPCLI will be conducting adventure training in the Luscar area the first week in December. Patrols of section strength will be required to cover a distance of approximately 25 miles in the mountains. The soldiers will have to construct shelters for themselves as the patrols will not have arctic tents. Game may be shot while on the training and everyone is looking forward to this.

GENERAL

As "A" Company, our airborne company, will be in Alaska in January and February, our unit will be rather depleted in strength. However, those of us who are left will be turning our attentions to preparations for the celebration of our Regiment's 50th Anniversary. There are a number of interesting events which will be taking place and notice of these will be published in the Bugle from time to time.

NOTICE

A general meeting of the 2 PPCLI Ladies' Jubilee Club will be held in the Lounge of the P.T. Building at 8:30 p.m., Monday, December 2nd.

All unit wives welcome.

N.C.O. SCHOOL GRADUATES

Edmonton, Alta. — Forty-five Edmonton soldiers were included among 235 candidates who passed the first milestone of their service careers on graduation last month from the Camp Wainwright, Alta., Junior Non-Commissioned Officers' School.

Major General J. M. Rockingham, General Officer Commanding Western Command, inspected the graduating candidates, took the salute at a march-past, and addressed the parade.

General Rockingham complimented the graduates on their fine turn-out and bearing on parade and cautioned them concerning the responsibilities for which graduation from the course had fitted them.

Award for the top candidate on the course went to L/Cpl. E. C. Tenbroeck of St. Catharines, Ont., from Calgary's 2nd Battalion, Queen's Own Rifles of Canada. Private J. M. Gauthier of Lorette, Man., accepted the volleyball trophy on behalf of the course's No. 4 Platoon.

The course syllabus stressed leadership training and included instruction in drill, dress and bearing, weapon handling, map using, military law and hygiene.

Major G. E. Anderson from Edmonton's 2nd Battalion, Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry, commanded the School, and School Sergeant Major was WO 2 R. J. King from the same Battalion.

17 ROD NEWS BRIEFS

Sgt. G. C. Neale has been promoted to the rank of S/Sgt. and will continue to be employed at this unit. Staff Neale was posted here from the Middle East.

A liaison visit to Southern Alberta Units was made by Lt.-Col. S. E. Hunter, the AOO, accompanied by Major C. L. Watson the Area Control Officer, in October. As a result it is believed that a closer association between the depot and units has now been established. The CO later visited 8 AOD, Vancouver which he formerly commanded in 1953.

Members of the unit were commended for the manner in which the United Community Fund objective was met. The CO presented his appreciation at a meeting of depot personnel held on November 12th and Lt./Sergeant and his "gang" can rest on their laurels after a job well done.

New arrivals at the unit include Pte. R. S. Beckingham from Europe and Cpl. W. L. Bonnaville from Fort Churchill.

Pte. J. A. McGrath, who was such a tower of strength to the DSM, has now been posted to 12 ROD Halifax.

Six of our other ranks are now attending clerk accounting and storeman courses at the RCOC School in Montreal.

Weekly discussion periods with the various wing commanders are being held under the guidance of the CO. These discussions cover the problems of management in volving depot operations and it is anticipated that the result will be most beneficial to the efficient operation of the depot.

Mrs. Verna Scott, the CO's stenographer, is resigning after four years of efficient service. Her many friends are sorry to see her leave as she has displayed a most congenial attitude during her stay here.

Some people have "rocks" in their heads but Pat Ripplinger suffered a slight accident when a "wandering" rock upset her and she damaged her wrist as she fell.

The unit has completed its annual range classifications and has now embarked on a training program to refresh tradesmen's memories on their respective specialties.

A church parade to commemorate the appointment of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth as Colonel-in-Chief of the RCOC is planned for December 1st.

WO2 Loudon, D. F., 17 ROD RCOC, is presented with the clasp to the Canadian Forces Decoration by Lt.-Col. S. E. Hunter.

WO2 Loudon has piled up 31 uninterrupted years of service. He enlisted in the QOCH of C at Winnipeg in 1932 and joined the RCOC in August, 1933.

During the war he rose to the rank of Conductor (WQ 1) and served in that capacity from 1942 to 1946.

"Dad", as he is known to friends across the country, has always been active in athletics and has represented Griesbach Barracks at various curling bonspiels at Penhold, Calgary and Shilo.

WO2 Loudon is to be promoted to the rank of WO 1 and posted to 8 AOD, Vancouver, B.C., in early December.

The annual G. A. and Q. unit inspection was conducted during the month of October. Advance information indicates that unit functions are being conducted in a satisfactory manner.

The Area Commander, Brigadier G. C. Leech, accompanied by Major G. S. Waldie, GSO2, carried out his annual inspection on October 31st.

S/Sgt. F. Y. C. Eveleigh, who was with our Calgary Inspection Section, has retired. Sgt. W. G. Reid has been posted to 4 OFP in Europe. Sgt. R. T. McCormick has joined the Calgary Inspection Section.

It is always an occasion for congratulations when a member of the armed forces accepts the plunge into a new and challenging career. It is with pleasure that we announce the marriage of Lt. S. S. Hulme, of 17 ROD SPSS, Calgary, to Miss Melodie Fern Gerun, of Edmonton.

St. John's Chapel W. A.

The W. A. Christmas Bazaar was held in No. 1 School Auditorium on Saturday, November 16. We were delighted to have Mrs. G. C. Leech officially open the Bazaar. She was then charmingly presented with a corsage of yellow rose buds by Hilda Harmer.

The Bazaar Convenor, Mrs. Gwen Jarvis, and members of the W. A. would like to say "o sincere thank you" to all the residents of Griesbach who supported us so generously. We are most grateful as well for the wonderful response to our request for home baking, white elephants, etc. Through your support and generosity you have enabled us to send a good contribution to our project — The Christian Medical Colleges of Vellore and Ludhiana.

Many thanks as well to all convenors and in particular to our general convenor Mrs. Gwen Jarvis. Gwen gave willingly of her time and talent to make this event such a terrific success.

St John's Sunday School

We are very pleased with the response to our appeal for teachers and helpers. It is most gratifying to see the number of people who will come out to help with the Sunday School. The enrollment of children is increasing each Sunday and although a large enrollment places quite a burden on our staff, new students will always be welcome.

At the present time, the Sunday School is once again working on the Christmas pageant. The children put a great deal of effort into the preparation of these but of adults are willing to attend pointing when only a small number of adults are willing to attend the performance. We would like to see a full auditorium to show the children we appreciate what they are doing.

(Being another letter from Myrt to her best friend and former neighbour)

Dear Kit:

Georgie and I had words the other night — but he didn't get to use any of his! The big lug came home and tried to put the bite on me for ten bucks.

I made like I couldn't hear him. He decides to shout — "Hey, Myrt — can I borrow ten bucks till pay day?"

"What's that?"

"Ten bucks, Myrt."

"I don't hear so good . . . In fact, I don't hear at all."

"Aw, come on, Myrt. Just a ten buck advance out of your house-keeping money."

I decided he wasn't going to shut up.

"Listen, chum . . . you've been spending money lately like it was going out of style . . . not ten bucks . . . not even two!"

The argument went on all evening and I made up my mind the next morning — the Browns were going on a budget.

Like most families, we have been on a budget before. All it ever amounted to was that we kept a record of where the dough went. It only made us feel worse. This time I decided to do it right. I picked up a fancy book at the Five-and-Ten and we had a family meeting — George, Sheila, Jimmy and me. I was the CHAIRMAN.

I laid out a plan. So much for everything — food, clothes and transportation.

We put the idea to a vote — secret ballot and all. I suspect my family was against the idea but, after all, the Chairman has a lot of influence. So by the democratic process, the Browns go on a budget.

On the next pay day I cashed our cheque and we started a system of ten envelopes — one for each item . . . food, entertainment, etc., and an envelope for Georgie and one for each of the kids and me.

This budget system was a real ball — for about two days. Frankly, Kit, if you really want to be miserable just try one of these budgets. Of all the inhuman inventions, this takes the cake.

Let me give you a couple of "for instances." One day I saw the most delightful sweater . . . just my shade . . . stunning . . . it was a steal at $14.59. I'm about to consummate the transaction when I realize that the fifteen bucks in my purse is for food. Moreover, in the clothing envelope back home we've only got $2.15 left . . . so no sweater!

Then, of course, there was a going-away party for Peggy Anderson. Little old Myrt really needed a hairdo in the worst way. This would have to come out of an envelope entitled "Myrtle Brown — personal." Said envelope had about three cents left in it . . . so Myrtle Brown didn't get a hairdo!

About this time, I'm starting to think that a budget isn't such a hot idea . . . but maybe we're stuck with it. After all, I was THE CHAIRMAN of the meeting that made the big decision. I started checking with the other members of our family in a very cautious way. George is fuming!

"Cripes, Myrt, a guy might as well be in jail. You can't run this family like they run the Quartermaster's Stores!"

"Yeah," Jimmy pipes in: "How come we couldn't go to the drive-in last week like all the other kids? They will be thinking that my Dad is a big sheepstake!"

Sheila had her beefs too, so I think that budgets aren't for us. But then I began to remember all the old arguments and all the dough we frittered away on useless junk. One thing I do recall . . . before the budget we sure weren't getting anywhere with our money management.

It was George who solved the dilemma. He came home with a booklet he borrowed from the Orderly Room called "Dollars and Sense," tailor-made for the Browns. This wasn't one of those sticky deals full of restrictions. It just made common sense.

First, you figure out how much money you've got coming in . . . let's say about $300.00 a month. Then you figure out how much it costs each month to live, plus putting aside a little for yearly thinks like holidays and Christmas. Suppose this comes to about $275.00. Then you resign yourself to the fact that all you can afford to spend each month for "extras" is what you have left — in this case $25.00.

Mind you, this isn't easy to swallow. For years we have been running around with the idea that we're a three-hundred dollar a month family. . . . Actually, we are only a "twenty-five dollar a month family." Still, we are much happier since we faced the facts.

The way it works now, I get so much to run the house, with a bit for myself. George and the kids get their allowances, we stick so much in the bank every month as savings, including the provision for holidays and Christmas — and the extra twenty-five bucks is spent in accordance with the decisions at the family meetings . . . of which, of course, I am the CHAIRMAN.

If this budget system has done nothing else, it's given us sales resistance. Quite frankly, a twenty-five dollar a month family can't afford to buy many luxuries, and to pay interest, carrying charges, service charges and all these other fancy "fringe benefits" of the consumer credit explosion.

Well, so long for now, Kit. If you talk your family into this kind of a budget, make sure you get yourself elected as CHAIRMAN. If they don't go for that, then at least get the job of TREASURER.

Sincerely,

Myrt

Seconded To Defence Production

Lieutenant-Colonel Fred K. Reesor, of Ottawa and Edmonton, Director of Army Public Relations for the past three years, was seconded to the Department of Defence Production on Nov. 4.

An officer of The Regiment of Canadian Guards, Lt-Col. Reesor has been in the Army since 1940 when he was commissioned in the Loyal Edmonton Regiment. He served overseas in the Mediterranean and Northwest European campaigns.

After the war he held a number of staff appointments in Canada, the United States and Great Britain. Before his appointment as PR director for the Army in July, 1960, he held the appointment of AAG (Manning) HQ Western Command.

Seconded to Memo

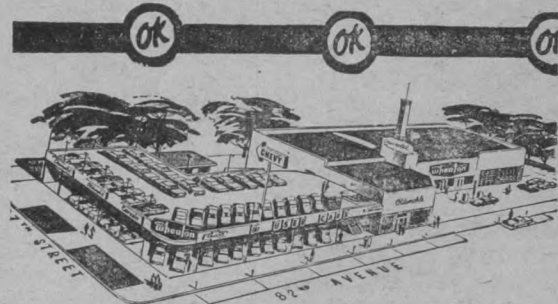

Major Alexander M. Stirton, MBE, CD, 48, of Calgary and Ottawa, was promoted to the rank of lieutenant-colonel and seconded to the Emergency Measures Organization early in November.

Since August, 1961, he has been public relations officer for Central Command with headquarters in Oakville, Ontario.

A sales supervisor was out with the boys one evening, and before he realized it the morning of the next day dawned. He hesitated to call home, but finally hit upon an idea.

He rang his house. When his wife answered the phone he shouted: "Don't pay the ransom, honey, I escaped!"

GRIESBACH BADMINTON CLUB

Since their last literary conversation, the Club has elected their Committees for the 1963/64 season for both the Senior and Teenage sections. The Senior Committee is as follows:

President — John Vallance;
Vice-President — George Debney;
Treasurer — Shirley Post; Public Relations — Stan MacPherson.

The teenagers have elected their Committee:

President — Jack Hamilton;
Treasurer — Terry Yateman.

For the interest of those new arrivals to Griesbach the Badminton Club hold their meetings at the PT Building, The Hamilton Gault Barracks, as follows:

Seniors — Tuesday from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Teenagers — Wednesday from 6:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Wally Tuck, who has been associated with badminton at Namco for some time, has been doing the honours as drawmaster, and as such keeps the club on the go throughout the evening. During these nights perhaps 5BX would not be easier — keep it up, Wally.

Information has been received from the Canadian Badminton Association outlining a new rule which was passed by the Badminton Association in England and will be adopted for World Tournament matches. In essence, the shuttlecock is now allowed to hit any part of the racquet and still be in play. Prior to this new rule being in effect, if the shuttlecock hit any part but the gut of the racquet it would be a fault, or "wood" shot. It has been found that it takes two or three games for one to adjust, but it makes for longer rallies.

People young and old have asked from time to time the history and various rules for badminton and for this reason in the next few editions an attempt will be made to satisfy these questions.

The game appears to have started in England about 1873, but before that time it was played in India, where it is still popular. The Badminton Association in England was founded in 1895 and its laws were formed from a code of rules drawn up in 1887 for the Bath Badminton Club. These rules apply to the game as played on the North American Continent, and in practically every other country where badminton is played. In clubs controlled by the Badminton Association only the covered court game is recognized. The All-England Championships for Men's Doubles, Ladies' Doubles and Mixed Doubles were instituted in 1899 and for the Men's Singles and Ladies' Singles in 1900; and the first International match between England and Ireland was played in 1903. The game consists entirely of volleying and is extremely fast, a single at badminton being admitted to require more staying power than a single at lawn tennis. There is much scope for judgement and skill in hitting the shuttle gently just over the net, and in hitting the shuttle with a "smash."

World War I and II necessarily checked the progress of the game, but after 1918 it steadily gained in popularity. The game has become increasingly popular in Canada and the United States.

The next issue will carry some of the more common need-to-know rules of the game.

Casey Never Had So Good

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo. — Shades of Abner Doubleday! The father of baseball, would flip if he knew what the soldiers serving with No. 57 Canadian Signal Unit in The Congo have done to the game in order to play under somewhat bizarre conditions.

Having received the necessary baseball equipment, the soldiers' next problem was to find someplace to play close to their billets and place of duty. There was no cleared, flat field in the neighbourhood, so they settled for the next best location available — an area next to their quarters in which stood several large, bushy trees and the built-in hazard of a three-foot deep, 100-foot long, 25-foot wide, dried-up wading pool.

The best spot was chosen for home plate which placed the trees — which couldn't be cut down — square in the middle of the outfield and the pool deep in left field.

Being unable to change the physical features, of the rough diamond, the soldiers decided to write ground rules to cover play affected by the local peculiarities. For example, any ball hit into the foliage is a single except when the outfielder is able to dodge the falling debris and make the catch. Any ball hit over the pool is a homer and a ball hit into the pool is a double. But an agile outfielder sometimes manages to follow the flight of the ball through the left-field tree and then jump into the pool to make the catch.

Other local conditions covered in the ground rules are the presence of curious Congolese watching the game — not from the sidelines but in midfield — and

Griesbach Army Ski Club

As soon as the snow flies and stays in sufficient depth to permit skiing on the Edmonton Ski Club hills, Army skiers from the Griesbach Ski Club will begin their winter programme.

The Club will have a general meeting soon, of all those interested in skiing at which an election of officers will be held and the programme for this winter will be outlined. Ski equipment will be displayed and experts will be on hand to answer questions. Your unit/HQ ski or sports representative will be advising you of the date of this meeting.

A comprehensive programme is planned for the coming season. Each Thursday afternoon lessons will be given by trained instructors. Good quality civilian skis and poles, and Army boots are available for those who do not have their own equipment. Rendezvous at the Leonforte Building (PT Lounge) at 1300 hrs. for transport to the Edmonton Ski Club hills. Call Lt. Amiss at local 427 re drawing ski equipment.

During the season, if there is sufficient interest, a ski weekend to Jasper or Banff will be arranged.

The season will culminate with the Command Ski Championships to be held in Banff 24 - 28 February. The Army Championships will be held at Camp Valcartier 9 - 13 March, 1964.

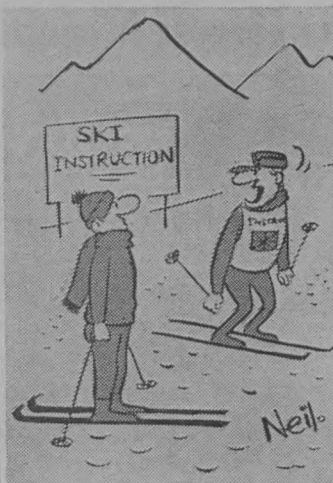

All military personnel in Griesbach are invited to join the Griesbach Ski Club and enjoy one of Canada's fastest-growing winter sports. Phone Lieut.-Col. Watson at local 576, Capt. Partridge at local 215 or Capt. Seaton at local 214 for further information.

Civilization is a system under which a man pays a quarter to park his car, so he won't be fined a dollar while spending a dime for a nickel cup of coffee.

St. Peter (to the new arrival):
"How'd you get here?"
Guest: "Flu."

the Congo sunsets which occur at the same time every day — about 6:30 p.m. — regardless of season because Leopoldville is near the equator. When stray spectators are on the field, time is called until the diamond is cleared. The sunset deadline is met by limiting games to 90 minutes from the completion of regular duties at 5 p.m.

These local ground rules lend a certain exotic touch to the old ball game. And it is a mark of distinction in the Canadian camp for a player to be known as a good "pool fielder".

I see we'll have to start from the very beginning with you!

Weyburn Soldier Top Recruit

COMMENDED

Calgary Garrison, Alta. — Staff Sergeant Jack Unger, 10 Cambrai Ave., Calgary, has been highly commended for his efficiency by the Commander of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade Group, Brigadier B. F. Macdonald.

Staff Sergeant Unger, who is the squadron quartermaster sergeant for 1 Signal Squadron, Royal Canadian Corps of Signals in Calgary, accounts for technical communications equipment and vehicles valued at nearly two and one-half million dollars.

On a recent regular two-year audit conducted by Lieutenant-Colonel R. G. Hitchman, Alberta Area Ordnance Officer, it was discovered that of the total value of the equipment, Staff Sergeant Unger was only unable to account for five dollars and eighty-eight cents.

Brigadier Macdonald praised the Staff Sergeant for his high calibre of efficiency, and congratulated Unger's staff for the maintenance of excellent records.

R.C.A.F. ADOPT NTW TRAINER

A new era in pilot training became a reality when the RCAF officially accepted the first of approximately 190 Canadair-built CT-114 jet trainers recently.

At a brief ceremony at Canadair Limited in Montreal, Defence Minister Paul Hellyer accepted the first aircraft from Mr. J. G. Notman, company president.

Known as the "Tutor," the aircraft will replace the piston engined Harvard trainer that has been in service in the RCAF for more than 20 years.

The introduction of the Tutor jet as a basic training aircraft will enable the RCAF to provide all-jet training for pilots in the early phase of their flying career.

This will enable pilots to be introduced to high speed and high altitude flight at the earliest possible stage of their flying training.

The greatest majority of pilots trained by the RCAF are now slated for duty either with the RCAF's Air Division in Europe where the supersonic CF-104 Starfighter is in squadron service, or with the air defence forces in Canada flying the CF-101 Voodoo.

The new trainer will not only introduce the pilot to the aspects of high altitude, high speed flight early in his flying training, but will give him more jet flying experience before he is introduced to operational aircraft.

THE NEW LOOK IN TRAINERS

The Tutor is considered one of the newest and most modern jet trainers available. It is powered by a single turbojet engine, and like most modern jet aircraft, has a tricycle undercarriage.

Unlike the tandem instructor-trainee arrangement in the piston engined Harvard, the Tutor has a side-by-side seating arrangement more suited to pilot instruction. It is also fitted with automatic ejection seats.

The aircraft is pressurized, has an altitude capability of more than 44,000 feet, and features a speed range from 65 knots to more than 400 knots. The aircraft has been evaluated by the Air Force and considered one of the most acceptable for basic pilot training in the western world.

THE NEW LOOK — TUTOR CT 114

THE "OLD RELIABLE" — HARVARD

The instrumentation and performance characteristics of the Tutor will greatly facilitate the transition to operational aircraft and will enable the RCAF to train more efficiently the skilled pilots required to fly modern high performance aircraft.

The first two Tutor aircraft to come off the assembly line at Canadair are scheduled to be assigned to the RCAF's Central Experimental and Proving Establishment for climatic trials, electronic equipment evaluation and performance and handling trials.

Next spring the trainers will be delivered to the RCAF's Training Command where operational and maintenance work schedules will be formulated and other adjustments made prior to the start of student training on the new aircraft. This is expected to get under way early in 1965.

Students will undertake the full syllabus of pilot training to wings standard using the Tutor as a basic trainer. In some cases runway and other construction required to support the new aircraft, is already under way.

Meanwhile, until the Tutor comes into operational service in Training Command, the propeller driven Harvard will continue to be used for pilot training.

AFTER 20 YEARS — TO PENSION

The Harvard dates back to the Second World War years where it was used as an advanced trainer by pilots who received basic flying training on Tiger Moths.

After the war the Harvard became the basic trainer in the RCAF. However, in 1954 a lighter and lower powered aircraft known as the Chipmunk, was introduced as a primary trainer in the Air Force. Student pilots later received their basic training on the Harvard before graduating to jet aircraft.

At present, student pilots receive about 25 hours training on the Chipmunk, approximately 165 hours on the Harvard and about 125 hours on the T-33 jet before receiving their wings.

With the advent of the Tutor, training on the Chipmunk and Harvard aircraft will be eliminated. Advanced flying, however, will still continue on the T-33 jet aircraft.

"I got up at dawn to see the sun rise," boasted a tourist. "Well," commented his friend, "You couldn't have picked a better time."

A Birthday for Acorn

The Twenty-First Anniversary of the Canadian Intelligence Corps was celebrated Nov. 1st in the Leonforte Building of Hamilton Gault Barracks. A total of sixty members and ex-members of the Corps were in attendance.

A presentation is made to Major H. H. Hennie, C. Int. C., on his retirement from the CA(R) after twenty-three years service. The ceremony was performed by Major J. E. Martin, GSO 2 (Int.) Western Command during the 21st Anniversary celebration on Nov. 1st.

The corporal was preparing to fingerprint a recruit. "Wash your hands," he said. "Both of them?" asked the recruit.

After a moment's hesitation, the corporal said: "No just one. I want to see how you do it!"

THE R.C.A.F. TRACKS SATELLITES

Probing space with a $30,000 lens, RCAF technicians and photographers near Cold Lake, Alta., have completed their first year photographing the night sky for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) and the NORAD Space Detection and Tracking System (SPADATS).

The camera they use weighs three tons, is valued at $120,000, and is supported on special mounts which allow it to be adjusted electronically in three planes. It is housed in a building specially-constructed to permit the walls and roof to slide back on tracks to expose the camera for use.

The RCAF team which operates the camera consists of two navigation officers and twelve airmen who work in two shifts through the night plotting the orbital position of satellites passing over Canada. The information is sent to the Smithsonian Institute's Astrophysical Laboratory and to North American Air Defence headquarters to be intercepted and correlated with reports from the 15 other cameras located in Australia, Chile (2), California, Curacao, Florida, Iran, Hawaii, India, Japan, New Mexico, Norway, South Africa, Spain and Johnston Island in the Pacific.

Data from these cameras has been a basis for scientific discoveries concerning the earth, its atmosphere, and outer space. It was from this data that earth's pear-shape was discovered.

Operate Second Radio Station

CAMP RAFAH, Egypt. — Radio Station FWBC (Fort Worthington Broadcasting Corporation) is on the air to make the second closed-circuit radio station operated by Canadian servicemen in the Sinai Desert. The other is at El Arish, serving soldiers and airmen stationed there.

FWBC — like the Fort — is named after Major-General F. F. Worthington, father of the Royal Canadian Armoured Corps.

Members of the reconnaissance squadron under signal Sergeant Don Lapointe of Kingston, Ont., began putting the station together last month from reclaimed bits and pieces of equipment. Today a mike reminiscent of the pre-war days of radio, modern tape recorders and a turntable serves to pipe music, news and song throughout the squadron lines.

The station goes on the air at

CANADA'S EYE ON THE SKY

An RCAF technician readies the three-ton satellite tracking camera for a night's operation at Primrose Lake evaluation range, 25 miles north of RCAF Station Cold Lake in northeast Alberta. The electronically-controlled camera, one of sixteen located around the world, is maintained and manned by twelve technicians of the RCAF.

While its principal job is that of contributing to scientific knowledge, the RCAF camera, like the other three cameras operated by the military, tracks the metal objects which accompany the satellites, such as rocket bodies, nose-cones and other man-made flotsam of space. This information is teletyped to NORAD to maintain a precise inventory of the hundreds of objects now in space.

5:45 a.m., with a one-hour morning show. Everyone stops for coffee in the desert camp from 10:00 to 10:30 and the station again returns to the air with recorded music.

Afternoon programs include material from the CBC, local advertising, and a disc jockey and hill-billy show. World and local news — sometime hard to come by in the Middle East — is scheduled for 6:00 o'clock in the evening. Weekly bulletins from the Department of External Affairs, a weekly news roundup from the Montreal Star, sports scores from the Army's Directorate of Public Relations in Ottawa and UN news from New York also contribute to a timely and comprehensive program schedule.

Corporal Frank Sicilane of Fort William, Ont., is program director, news and sports announcer with Cpl. Bill Young of Winchester, Ont., as his second-in-command. Signallerman Dick Russell of Moose Jaw, Sask., Trooper Larry Shilson of Windsor, Ont., and Trooper Al Crookes of Atikokan, Ont., put on disc jockey and hillbilly shows.

Strath Auxiliary Aids Patients

CALGARY GARRISON, Alta. — On presenting the cheque to Colonel Belcher Hospital Auxiliary Society, Mrs. Ray Nash said, "Ten years ago the first project of the newly formed Colonel Belcher Hospital Auxiliary was to form a club, the idea being, was to have an attractive meeting place for the patients to entertain their relatives and friends.

The original Okon Club was held in the drawing room of the old Burns house which was torn down to make room for the present Colonel Belcher Hospital.

The Indian word "Okon" which means, "Feast after Famine" was chosen from a great number of names submitted by the patients. The feast in this instance is sandwiches, cookies and coffee.

On the hospital's suggestion we make a nominal charge for the coffee, profit if any goes back to the refurbishing and upkeep of the room.

The Auxiliary of he Strathcona's have been very kind in having their members present every other Thursday at the club for the purpose of attending to the patients needs.

Lord Strathcona's Horse (Royal Canadians) Ladies' Auxiliary donate a cheque for $156.00 to the Colonel Belcher Hospital Auxiliary Society.

Through the years we have been open seven nights a week, but without the help of the many interested Organizations we would be unable to function properly. The donation was for $156.00.

When we are right we can afford to keep our temper. When we are wrong, we can't afford to lose it.

Brigadier G. L. Morgan Smith, CBE, CD, QHP, of Toronto, wartime commander of the medical unit which took part in the Dieppe operation, will retire from the Regular Army in late November after 28 years service.

People who insist on driving too fast may get to where they're going years ahead of their time.

GRIESBACH SENIOR YOUTH GROUP

A Hallowe'en dance, sponsored by the Griesbach Senior Youth Group, was held on Friday, November 1st, in the Auditorium of No. 1 School.

Over two hundred teenagers turned out to support the once a year costume bash. Music, which was skreeched out by the CJCA Knights, varied directly with the fact that the evening was a success. We were greatly honored to have present at the dance the chairman of the Griesbach Council, Major Buckley, and his wife; Captain and Mrs. Clarke; and Corporal and Mrs. Mackay. They were all suitably dressed for the occasion.

Griesbach Drugs, Killarney Drugs, Glengarry Drugs, and Canada Safeway Ltd. donated prizes which were won by Barbara and Jean Hamilton, Donna Saul, Philippa Tucker, Mel Laine, Sharon Cooper, Tom Smith, Shirley Pelletier, and Ray Caesar.

As a result of this dance, more of the same are planned for the future.

Aids in Off Duty Hours

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo. — A much-travelled Grande Riviere, Que., medical corpsman serving with No. 57 Canadian Signal Unit in The Congo, Sergeant Cyprien Langlais, puts his off-duty time to good use — he helps members of the Dispensaire General at Leopoldville in their fight against illness and disease among the Congolese citizens of the city.

The tall, greying Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps sergeant's assistance is "heaven sent" said the clinic's sister-in-charge, Sister Henriette Marie, of Geneva, Switzerland. "His knowledge of tropical maladies and his kindness in working with the sick is much appreciated," she added.

The veteran medical corpsman spoke highly of his fellow Canadians' ability to "beat the heat and get on with the job." "Here in the Congo," he said, "few of our troops have suffered from tropical diseases, thanks to their excellent hygienic habits."

Since enlisting in the medical corps in Ottawa 23 years ago, Sergeant Langlais has served with a field ambulance unit in Northwest Europe during the Second World War; completed two tours of duty with the "medics" in Korea; served with Canadian units in Indochina and Egypt, and now is in The Congo as a member of the United Nations Force.

Close to retirement, the 49-year old non-commissioned officer said that he enjoyed every day of his Army career.

He plans to settle down in Gaspé, Que., and "spend some time seeing my native Canada."

224 WORKSHOP R.E.M.E.

NUTS AND BOLTS SECTION

Since last writing, the unit has had numerous changes of personnel at the shop, both coming and going.

Best wishes to Cpl. (Jim) Gay on his retirement to civy street, and to Cpl. Allen and Cpl. Shaw who have left for the workshop at Camp Wainwright.

Along the same line of thought we wish S/Sgt. MacDonald and Cpl. Cowan luck with their selection for posting to the Middle East in 1964. Sope the Bermuda shorts fit alright, fellows.

We would like to take this opportunity to welcome the newcomers. Our new arrivals are: S/Sgt. Hewitt, Sgt. Potts, Sgt. McLean, Cpl. Hiscock, Cfn. Fryer, Cfn. McCulough and Cfn. Sockard.

On the military side of things, we were honoured by a visit from Brigadier Leech, who inspected our workshop and spoke with a good number of our personnel.

Taking in the lighter side of life we have not done anything socially since our Corps' Birthday Party, which was a smashing success. Plans are in the making for some social events in the near future.

13 Works Coy RCE News Briefs

Millionaire's Night held on November 2nd, was declared a success by virtue of the fact everyone enjoyed the food, games and dancing, despite the reluctance of the record player to play more than one record.

The cold wind and snow means winter has arrived and is here to stay. There is a cheerful note however, particularly for the younger set, as out come the Christmas catalogues and Christmas decorations are dusted and checked; which all leads up to the fact that 13 Works Coy RCE will be holding its Christmas party for the children on December 19th at the PPCLI PT Lounge. The annual get-together of the older set is scheduled for the evening of December 20th, and as the recce has not yet been completed, the place and time will be notified later by other media.

Mrs. Fance has joined the unit as has Sgt. (Bud) Wesen from Wainwright. Cpl. Gilson has left to carry on Bud's good work in the draughting office in Wainwright. Sprs. Pederson, Ganton and Donaldson are back from Jr. NCO Courses looking none the worse for wear.
